Hello NTBugTraq, while not specifically a Microsoft oriented conference, there is plenty of room for WinTel32 presentations.

Papers and presentations are now being accepted for The Black Hat Briefings Amsterdam 2003 event in Amsterdam, The Netherlands, May 14th – 15th, 2003. Papers and requests to speak will be received and reviewed until March 25th.

WHAT IS THE BLACK HAT BRIEFINGS?

The Black Hat Briefings was created to fill the need for computer security professionals to better understand the security risks and potential threats to their information infrastructures and computer systems. Black Hat accomplishes this by assembling a group of vendor-neutral security professionals and having them speak candidly about the problems businesses face and their solutions to those problems. No gimmicks — just straight talk by people who make it their business to explore the ever-changing security space.
