I've gathered together some information about the NTDLL Attack (MS03-007) and put them on a web page;

<http://www.ntbugtraq.com/default.asp?sid=1&pid=47&aid=74>

It includes links to articles on how to disable WebDAV and answers some questions about that (whether you need to reboot or not, etc...) as well as a couple of files Nelson Bunker gave me to automate modifying the registry key. I've included the easiest method I've seen to determine if WebDAV is enabled also. I was going to write a little tool to do this, but I'll leave that up to one of you.

Suggestions for additional information or testers is welcome.

Cheers,
Russ – NTBugtraq Editor
