Well, well, all of the sudden I'm the most popular guy on NTBugTraq. :-)

Thankyou for all of the positive feedback. I've also received a number of general questions about our SP2 support. Since I wasn't (and still am not) acting as an official representative of Symantec – haven't done electronic support in ages – I didn't think to cover this in my initial post. So, for those looking for more information on Symantec's XP SP2 support, for both consumer and enterprise products, please see the following two links. And, dag nab it, the first doesn't fit on a 72-character line, so you'll need to fixup the wrapping.

Consumer XPSP2 FAQ

Enterprise XPSP2 FAQ

I remember somebody asked me if there were any white papers on our XPSP2 support. On both sites, you'll find a Support Documents link that has several.
