

Final EUsecWest 2008 Speakers

---

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Mailing-Lists/securityfocus/bugtraq/2008-05/msg00115.html>

---

- From: Dragos Ruiu <dr@xxxxxxx>
  - Date: Thu, 8 May 2008 20:54:53 -0700
-

The selected papers for EUsecWest 2008 are:

- * PhlashDance, discovering permanent denial of service attacks against embedded systems – Rich Smith, HP Labs
- * Attacking Near Field Communications (NFC) Mobile Phones – Collin Muliner, trifinite
- * Abusing X.509 certificate features – Alexander Klink, Cynops GmbH
- * Phoenix, and automated vulnerability finding – Tim Burrell, Microsoft
- * Cisco IOS Rootkits – Sebastian Muñoz, Core
- * Advances in attacking interpreted languages – Justin Ferguson, IOActive
- * One Token to Rule Them All: Post-Exploitation Fun in Windows Environments – Luke Jennings, MWR InfoSecurity
- * Building the bridge between the Web Application and the OS: GUI access through SQL Injection – Alberto Revelli, Portcullis
- * Satellite Systems – Adam Laurie, RFIDIOT.org
- * Browser Exploits – Attacks and Defense – Saumil Shah, Net Square
- * WebSphere MQ Security – Martyn Ruks, MWR InfoSecurity

Paper synopses are now up on the website.

This year there will be three Security Masters Dojo courses on May 19/20, including a new course from Foundstone:

- * Ultimate Web Hacking – Nick Murison, Foundstone, a division of McAfee
- * Advanced Honeypot Tactics – Thorsten Holz, Aachen University
- * The Exploit Laboratory – Advanced Edition Saumil Shah and Christopher Owen Net-Square and Consault

Final EUSecWest 2008 Speakers

cheers,
--dr

--

World Security Pros. Cutting Edge Training, Tools, and Techniques
London, U.K. May 21/22 – 2008 <http://eusecwest.com> pgpkey <http://dragos.com/> kyxpgp