

Re: active directory security

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/comp.os.ms-windows.nt.admin.security/2002-11/0074.html>

From: Jonathan Stephens (jonsteph@carolina.rr.com)

Date: 11/16/02

From: Jonathan Stephens <jonsteph@carolina.rr.com>

Date: Sat, 16 Nov 2002 15:50:40 GMT

Sounds like AdminSdHolder. Check out:

<http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb:en-us:232199>

–Jonathan

On 11 Nov 2002 06:59:49 –0800, twolf@lcca.com (Todd Wolf) wrote:

>When I make a security change in active directory for a built in group
>i.e (administrators, domain admins, and enterprise admins) the change >seems to work, but after a while the change reverts back to the way it >was. I make the change on the primary DC and then replicate out to the >others. I am trying to restrict these groups from being able to send >mail as another user.

>

>

>Thanks in advance

>

>Todd Wolf

>Systems Analyst

>Life Care Centers of America