

Re: ssh timeout ?

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/comp.security.ssh/2002-12/0389.html>

From: Igor B (igor_bumshteyn@yahoo.com)

Date: 12/30/02

From: igor_bumshteyn@yahoo.com (Igor B)

Date: 30 Dec 2002 09:03:56 -0800

try portscanssh. it's a little program that checks whether or not port 22 open on the remote machine.

portscanssh -t 5 server

chris@issolutions.co.uk (ChrisC) wrote in message news:<5279ab1.0212260637.1a6a2f8d@posting.google.com>...

- > I have compiled ssh on various solaris boxes. I have a processs that
- > gets stats from boxes via ssh, however if the remote box is down etc
- > or ssh is not running, then when I do ssh <hostname> it hangs forever
- > (actually I havent timed it) opposite of other protcols such as ftp
- > and telnet, where you get connection closed message quite quickly.
- >
- > Does anyone know how you put in a timeout threshhold to close the
- > connection more quickly ? I am running openssh 3.1 on solaris.
- >
- > Thanks