

comp.security.ssh: Re: beginner can't get public key auth.

Re: beginner can't get public key auth.

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/comp.security.ssh/2003-01/0506.html>

From: Robert Nikander (nik-spamprotector-ander@nc.rr.com)

Date: 01/27/03

From: Robert Nikander <nik-spamprotector-ander@nc.rr.com>

Date: Mon, 27 Jan 2003 02:30:30 GMT

Richard E. Silverman wrote:

- > Check that you put the public key on the server, not the private one.
- >
- > Check the sshd syslog messages on the server.
- >
- > Check that ~, ~/.ssh, and ~/.ssh/authorized_keys are owned by you and not
- > group or world-writable.
- >

Thank you, that was it -- ~/.ssh and authorized_keys were group writeable. I still can't do it with my ISP's server, so I'll have to ask them if they have sshd configured differently.

Rob