

Re: remote ssh not closing after X program run

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/comp.security.ssh/2004-02/0432.html>

---

From: Bill Unruh (unruh\_at\_string.physics.ubc.ca)

Date: 02/29/04

Date: Sun, 29 Feb 2004 07:52:04 +0000 (UTC)

Xanadu <xanadu@inorbit.com> writes:

]On Sat, 28 Feb 2004 22:02:41 +0000, Bill Unruh wrote:

]> I have ssh running between two computers, and I log onto the remote ]> machine using ssh. On the remote machine I run an X program which ]> displays on the display on the local machine. I then shut the remote ]> program down, so the X forwarding is no longer in use. But when I log ]> out from the remote machine, ssh still does not close. There is not ]> remote X program running to hold the connection open, but it refuses to ]> shut down the X connection.

]>

]> Mandrake 9.0 on both machines. Openssh 3.6.1p2-1.2.90mdk

]How are you starting the X app? Are you using screen?

No. ssh forwards X apps to the first computer.

I start them from the command line.

Eg

korganizer