

comp.security.ssh: Re: SSH and login without password (not passwordless login)

Re: SSH and login without password (not passwordless login)

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/comp.security.ssh/2004-03/0356.html>

From: Pascal Legrand (Pascal.Legrand_at_univ-orleans.fr)

Date: 03/29/04

Date: Mon, 29 Mar 2004 11:00:07 +0200

----- Message original -----

> Hey everyone, got a strange question for you.

>

> I have an account that has no password (yes, please ignore that this > is really bad). When I try to ssh or scp to it I get the password > prompt, but if I just hit enter the response is "permission denied, > please try again." If I break out of the connection in some way or > hit space then enter it lets me in.

>

> Is there an sshd config option that controls this?

did you compile ssh with a "password option" like "--with-md5-passwords"

--

Pascal Legrand

IUT de Chartres - _Service Informatique_

1 place Pierre Mendès France - 28000 Chartres

Tel: 02 37 91 83 36 - Fax: 02 37 91 83 01

Pascal.Legrand@univ-orleans.fr