

Re: URGENT!! Windows Authentication Problem

Source:

<http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.dotnet.framework.aspnet.security/2003-02/0165.html>

From: Yama (yama@yamabiz.com)

Date: 02/20/03

From: "Yama" <yama@yamabiz.com>

Date: Thu, 20 Feb 2003 11:59:32 -0800

Hello Matthew,

Try changing, in your web.config, the following line:

```
<authentication mode="Windows" />
```

to:

```
<authentication mode="Forms" />
```

Hope this solves your problem,

Yama Kamyar

"Matthew E Creegan" <mecreegan@attbi.com> wrote in message news:OcNIPSE2CHA.1636@TK2MSFTNGP10...

> I have a simple ASP.net Application that contains a few pages to expose data > stored in a database.

> I want to use Windows Authentication to restrict access to the application.

> The entire application seems to have been problem free for the past 2 weeks.

> Now it seems that users can't log in from the internet. I can view the > application perfectly from within the domain.

> Now when users hit the application from the internet, they get the Windows > login dialog (as usual), which seems to accept credentials properly, but the > default page can't be displayed.

> I have 2 sites running on the webserver, so I figured I'd try putting the > application on the other site. It actually works perfectly there. There > doesn't seem to be anything wrong with the first site, as other applications > seem to be working fine.

> Despite all this, I'm still thinking it's an authentication issue because if

> I remove <deny users=""> from the authorization in the web.config then the > application works fine over the internet, except that the users are not > forced to authenticate (not an acceptable solution).

>

> Anyone have any ideas what went wrong?

>

microsoft.public.dotnet.framework.aspnet.security: Re: URGENT!! Windows Authentication Problem

> Thanks.

>

> MEC

>

>