Hello Luca,

Thanks for the quick update.

What is the error message that you got?

Also, what is the security setting of your IE? Please go to IE tools menu->Internet Options->Security tab->ActiveX controls and plug-ins. What is the setting of these two items? (Download signed ActiveX control, Download unsigned ActiveX control). If it is prompt for item 1, then a dialog box should be launched when you download this control in IE. Please set item 1 to Enable to see if you still meet this problem. For item2, that is for non-signed ActiveX controls, so we can just leave it there since it is not related to this problem.

Thanks.

Best regards,
