

Re: error codes

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.inetserver.iis.security/2003-04/0764.html>

---

From: BB (Bernard at 3exp.com)

Date: 04/21/03

From: "BB" <Bernard_at_3exp.com>
Date: Mon, 21 Apr 2003 10:26:20 +0800

IIS Status code, refer

<http://support.microsoft.com/?id=318380>

You can have the IP display in the event viewer for failed login, this is not part of the info when you enable logon event auditing, but you should be able to base on it, and find that entry in IIS Log file.

--

Regards,

Bernard Cheah

<http://support.microsoft.com/>

"rob" <deadi@alltel.net> wrote in message news:018801c3075b$3be445a0$3001280a@phx.gbl...
> where do i find a description of error codes that iss 5.0 > gives, for example 304 0. I am seeing this and others in > the logs for my web server. I have searched for this in > the knowledge base but cant find any info. i find it hard > to determine what users are doing to my web site without > knowing what they are. If possible, how do i get event > viewer security to display the ip of someone trying > multiple passwords to get in?