

FTP – Cannot logon using Domain users, only with local users

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.inetserver.iis.security/2003-05/0212.html>

---

From: Puneet (puneet\_at\_sgmartin.com)

Date: 05/06/03

Date: Tue, 6 May 2003 06:41:41 -0700

CA n you please confirm

1. Are you able to log into your webserver using a id from the Active directory ?
2. The webserver is a member of the same AD.

Puneet

>-----Original Message-----

>We are running a small test network at school, were we >have a login server and a web/ftp server. We want the ftp >server to be able to use the users and passwords stored >in >the login server for ftp access. We've set up a Active >Directory on the login server, and the IIS is up and >running on the web/ftp server. The problem is, we can't >login to the ftp server with domain user accounts. The >event view shows a warning id: 100 with a "user is not >permitted to logon locally" message. Local accounts works >fine for obvious reasons.
>
>Can anyone help us with this?
>
>