Did you try a Google search? These groups are propagated through other NNTP servers, so, I think, Google would pick them up. I really don't know how your posts would trip some censorbot in these groups. If anybody should be having that happen, it would be me.

Come to think of it, I do know of one post I made that was killed; but it was a follow up to a post that was doomed to be cancelled, anyway. So, I wasn't surprised that mine followed it into the dust bin.
