Look on the symantec knowledge base and see if they have a procedure for manually deinstalling NAV. They have one for NAV2003 which is probably close. It entails editing the registry, so backup your registry first and follow the instructions. Its probably to soon for them to have posted a 2004 version. I have always found it is best to deinstall Norton before any OS upgrade or even a Norton upgrade.

Try

this does not work search there knowledge base
