Dear All,

My PC got infected by a worm sent by a friend through MSN messenger. When I open msn messenger it tries to send itself to friends in my contact list.

The worm has turned off the System Restore option and I can't find it in My Computer properties. When I launch the PC a bizarre message comes in a notepad file. My programs don't work properly, can't open certain websites or Outlook Express.

Anyone who knows how to get everything back to normal?

Thanks for your support

The Undertaker
