

Re: NEED HELP PLEASE

Re: NEED HELP PLEASE

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.security.virus/2006-10/msg00192.html>

- From: "LS \(\V\)" <lawrence(NoSpam)systems@xxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 12 Oct 2006 13:18:22 -0400
-

Hello;

The surest way to remove the problems you have is to do a reformat and a clean install of Windows XP.

Some would disagree, but it would save a lot of head ache and trouble in the long run!.

Best Regards

Lawrence

Lawrence Systems Computer Services

"kennewickrockerguy" <kennewickrockerguy@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:4A2A5EB9-7F40-4E24-B74C-F7F0644AA9D8@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

I downloaded the free version of avg awhile ago and am looking to upgrade but i have a problem, while i was at work my son deleted avg completely and uninstalled it as well so he could download something on limewire.

Whatever

he downloaded had a virus in it and now i cant ctrl+alt+del and pull up my task manager (i use xp home w/ service pack 2) if i right click on the taskbar abd select taskmanager it never comes up, if i search for it it does not appear. if i go to grisoft.com , it pulls up the ie window for about 2 seconds and closes itself. limewire also automatically restarted every single time i closed it so i have deleted it. i tried to go onto a virus forum from my computer and i have found that not only does grisoft get auto-closed but all virus support sites as well. I even went to a site that sells pepper spray and security supplies and the same results, but yahoo and mspace and the like work. I had my friend do a file transfer from her computer to mine on yahoo im for the installation program for avg and i can not open that either. also i am getting random popups in a forgien language. When i open "my computer" there are 2 html applications i do not recognize one called "estigma" and another called "onoes" (i think that is how the second one is spelled) i tried to format my hard drive but when i open cmd it says the following "c:\WINDOWS\system32\cmd.exe" (title bar) "Another program is currently using this file." (message field) even immediately after restarting my computer i ge this error message. I have tried to do a system restore and it says failed everytime i have tried. And now my firefox is not working like the task manager Please tell me my brand new (barely out of warranty) computer is not doomed.

Re: NEED HELP PLEASE

Re: NEED HELP PLEASE

Re: NEED HELP PLEASE