

Re: BYEBYEADS.com C&C

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.security/2003-07/1457.html>

---

From: YK (YKnot_at_home.invalid)

Date: 07/20/03

Date: Sun, 20 Jul 2003 01:08:53 -0400

Shenan T. Stanley wrote:

> Jeff C <> wrote:

>> *I am submitting this message to hopefully get the >> attention of MS developers to crack down on places like >> BYEBYEADS.com They have found my IP address or installed >> a program on my system without my permission and send me a >> message every hour give or take. It interrupts my >> processing, games, work, CD-Burning and everything else.
>> They say i need to pay $25 to rid myself of these >> messages. I want MS to look into this company and take >> the necessary action to stop this company from >> unauthorized access into my system.*

>

> You need to enable either your built in firewall or install and > configure a third party firewall. (the only people I KNOW cannot do > the built in firewall are you poor AOL users. AOL, in their genius, > has futzed up some works and the built in software doesn't work with > AOL, you WILL have to get a third party application and learn to use > it - sorry - it's the price you pay for going AOL, I guess. heh)

<snip>

Felt I had to put the C&C warning as I had a good laugh at your answer but it is so true.

C&C

The "Coffee and Cats" Warning. Keep any coffee and/or cats away from the computer while reading this message. If you don't, you will have to replace a keyboard and will need several claw marks bandaged. (The cats warning does not apply to those who are werefeline or are feline, like Fluffy).