I just bought a used laptop (Dell Inspiron 7000) When I booted up the password screen came up with the following info. User name is 'administrator' and log on to is 'TEST'. Is this a Microsoft default? Is there a password to access the program so I can set my own password? Or do I need to take it into a shop for new parts? I'm a truck driver, not a computer type and could use some info! Thanks!!!
