I had the Security Toolbar 7.1 virus. I battled it for a week, searching the web for ANY answers. Found one that worked, tried to find it again to thank them, so I felt that this information needed to be shared. I feel so strongly about it that I am going to put my email address here for anyone to email me if they would like to make sure I am a real person and not another trick. I KNOW how frustrating this can be. I WILL NOT RESPOND TO EMAILS ASKING FOR MORE TIPS/TRICKS ON HOW TO RID YOUR

COMPUTER OF THIS. I followed these steps and my computer is working and I want to share this information with as many people as possible. I would, however, understand if you wanted to make sure I am real – antisecuritytoolbargirl@xxxxxxxxxx

Anyone looking to remove Security Toolbar 7.1 should know that I used a metric %&@#–ton of other programs first, I can't guarantee that this will work for you, but it DID work for me. Until I ran SUPERantispyware all other programs would find anywhere from 150–800 suspicious files EVERY time I ran their scans, never getting a clean scan. Now I get nothing.

This is THE WORST virus/malware/spyware infestation I have ever seen, and it happened QUICKLY. I scoured the web and found a lot of suggestions that just didn't work, and a LOT of (what I believe to be) fake people lying and saying "I used xxxx(random spyware program) and it was free and it fixed my computer!" then I would DOWNLOAD it and it would either be another piece of malware OR it would be free to SCAN but not CLEAN your computer.

Re: "Security Toolbar 7.1"

WARNING!!!!!! If you don't know what you are doing (and most people don't) THEN YOU SHOULDN'T DELETE HIJACKTHIS!

ENTRIES. Do a search for a forum to post your reports in and there are a lot of awesome people willing to help you sort through it.

Same goes for your registry.

Step 1) Going into Start->Control Panel->Internet Options->Programs->Manage Ad-ons and disabling The Security Toolbar 7.1 and any other sketchy items that may be there.

(My own Optional) Step 2) TURN OFF WINDOWS RESTORE so that it deletes your restore point, BECAUSE IT WOULD SUCK

TO RESTORE YOUR COMPUTER TO AN INFECTED STATE.

Step 3) SUPERAntispyware (<http://superantispyware.com/>) – I LOVE them and cannot thank them enough for this amazing program that took me WAY too long to discover and will never leave my personal arsenal of AV programs.

Step 3) Hijackthis report and cleanup.
(http://www.trendsecure.com/portal/en-US/tools/security\_tools/hijackthis)
Then uploaded the report to a forum for consultation from knowledgeable Geeks willing to help us lesser mortals.

(My own Optional) step 5) Re-ran some of my other fave AV/AS programs like Ad-aware and Avast and Search And Destroy – I did this because I felt like other virus/spy/malware/s may have gotten in while my computer was not in peak performance. They each found one or two things hanging around. Then I would re-scan my main drive a second time with each program to make sure the *****s weren't duplicating like Mogwai in a swimming pool.

(My own optional) step 6) Ran about 4 free registry cleaning programs found on www.download.com. BE CAREFUL CLEANING

YOUR REGISTRY YOU CAN FORCE YOURSELF INTO AN O/S REINSTALL IF YOU AREN'T CAREFUL WHAT YOU

DELETE!

Re: "Security Toolbar 7.1"

Re: "Security Toolbar 7.1"

(My own optional) step 7) Since everything was working better than it has in a LONG time I created a new restore point by turning it back on.

I sincerely hope this works for you.

I wish I could find the person I got steps 1–3 from because I love them and send many zen–hugs their way.

I am going to go and post this all over the internet tonight(11/15/2007), anyone who is helped by this information, I URGE you to pass it on to any others in need. If you do PLEASE copy and paste this entire message (so we don't play a bad game of telephone)

Please make sure to leave the keywords at the bottom so that people can find this if they need it!

Good Luck People!
