

Re: SSL

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.sqlserver.security/2002-07/1601.html>

From: Sue Hoegemeier (Sue_H@nomail.please)

Date: 07/29/02

From: Sue Hoegemeier <Sue_H@nomail.please>

Date: Mon, 29 Jul 2002 12:24:31 -0600

The following article will walk you through the steps of requesting and installing a certificate:
HOW TO: Enable SSL Encryption for SQL Server 2000 with Microsoft Management Console
<http://support.microsoft.com/?scid=kb:en-us:Q316898>

–Sue

On Mon, 29 Jul 2002 10:43:27 -0700, "Andy Ally" <andy@stemcell.com> wrote:

>I'm trying to set up SQL Server 2000 to use SSL encryption >but need to install a certificate. The problem is that >most certificate authorities require a certificate request >file to be generated. I can find no documentation about >generating this file in SQL Server so that I can submit it >to get a certificate. If anyone has tackled this problem >successfully please let me know asap. Thanks.