first off thanx for your time in reading this. ok two weeks ago my laptop was stolen.. i use win2000 pro, and for some reason i left it unlocked that day(i know duh me), i got it back last thursday and they have changed all of my passwords, and everything i have tried everything i know to do.. my 3 1/2 floppy is messed up so i can't reinstall or anything.. i dunno what else to do.. i've gotten despart and come here and have downloaded a few programs that say they will crack it open, and use linux to reset them and all.. but everything has to be on the system.. its kinda getting a little frustating ya know.. anyways any idea's someone could give me would be of great appeciation.. and again thanx for your time.
