

Re: registry editing on external registry

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.win2000.security/2003-07/1087.html>

From: Brendon Rogers (brendon_at_nospam-itology.net)

Date: 07/16/03

Date: Tue, 15 Jul 2003 21:03:43 -0400

Assuming your other PC is on the network there may be an easier way to fix this problem: from another PC open Regedit, then click Registry, Connect Network Registry. Specify either the computer name or IP address and click OK.

"ms newsgroup" <lakers77@yahoo.com> wrote in message news:OmxfvQzSDHA.3192@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...

> Where is the registry stored?

>

> I am trying to change a value on a external registry on another system on > another disk.

>

> I need to change the registry for that one so it can resolve a login problem

> for that system on that disk.

>

> Man Win2k is full of problems. :(re

>

>

>

>

>