I have created three users on W2k installation. I have installed Kazaa through the admin account and it works on that desktop. I would like to get it working on another user desktop but it says you need admin priviledges to run.....

Please inform me how i can run kazaa or other programs from different users desktops. Do they have to be "powerusers" or such. If so how can i limit their security, read/write priviledges.

thanking you in advance

Mark
