Hi,

I I constantly get several popup messages from "Message Service" and warning me that my Windows 2000 vulnibility is high that I need to go to "www.MessageStop.net".

I went to there and it asked me to buy a software called "Windows Software Patch – IPBlocker", which is offered by SecureSoft.org

Should I go for it or does Windows offer some kind of security software update?

I've just installed DSL to my computer and all these happened.

THANKS for your help!!
