The workstation having wind 2k boots up and throws active desktop recovery screen immediately, and some explorer.exe exception in the winnt directory. Clicking OK in that alert window starts throwing a lot of pop ups. Is it due to spyware? I tried uninstalling the spyware even then it shows the pop ups which makes the computer a nuisance for the user. Is there an effective spyware removal tool I could use (if thats the problem)? or is it due to a virus. Any help will be appreciated.

Thanks,
