First thing I would check is that you are logged an as an administrator account. You can run the command net localgroup administrators to see what users are shown in the administrators group. You can type cmd.exe in the run box to open a command window if you are not sure how to do such. If you are logged on as an administrator what error message do you get?

I downloaded Windows Defender Beta from Microsoft. But I cannot install it on either a XP machine or a Windows 2000 machine. How can I install it?
