

Re: VISTA – IE7 SECURITY CERTIFICATE ERROR

Source:

<http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.windows.vista.security/2009-04/msg00313.html>

- From: jimcoufal <jimcoufal.3qus3b@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sat, 18 Apr 2009 23:52:21 +0530
-

The same thing has happened to me after Microsoft sent Windows Defender updates on March 17th. Mine is more complex. Windows defender disappeared and I cannot download it again from Microsoft since the computer will not validate any certificates, even from the Microsoft site. (I have a legitimate version of Vista Home Premium) Norton techs remotely verified that I do not have a virus (although the symptoms are similar to conficker). I can't download ANY software and many websites (AA.com, Microsoft.com, etc all now have certificate error). Although I can still enter the sites, I cannot use anything that requires form data (JAVA, etc) since it bombs and I see scripts in the window instead. I'm going to download either Firefox or Google Chrome to see if the IE7 issue might be causing this. However, I think the underlying issue is related to Windows Defender problems and the IE7 issues are due to the Windows Defender updates failing. Help!

—
jimcoufal

jimcoufal's Profile: <http://forums.techarena.in/members/91320.htm>
View this thread: <http://forums.techarena.in/vista-security/724670.htm>

<http://forums.techarena.in>