

microsoft.public.windowsxp.security_admin: My account has been disabled, please see system administrator

My account has been disabled, please see system administrator

Source:

http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.windowsxp.security_admin/2002-12/23294.html

From: Max (jmaxchicago@msn.com)

Date: 12/30/02

From: "Max" <jmaxchicago@msn.com>

Date: Sun, 29 Dec 2002 17:07:29 -0800

I'm on line and I click to join msn messenger service; I get walked through a step by step how to create a msn passport and a new e-mail address to go with it; After successfully doing that I turn off my computer; half hour later I turn it back on and input my password to log onto windows, you know the password that allows access to start the computer. When I put my password in I got a window that says my account has been disabled, please see your system administrator. Even when I put in the msn passport password it is rejected. I can't start the operating system now. No start menu, no help keys work like f8. Also, when I checked my new msn e-mail that I created in passport, it did not exist.

Any suggestions?

Respectfully

Max