Does anyone know why I wouldn't have a UPS tab on the power options control panel?

I'm on a laptop and only see a battery page --- is it assumed one would not use an external UPS if one is using a laptop even in a docking station even with an external monitor, keyboard and mouse? Some docking stations even have external SCSI hard disks built in to them. Should I be seeing my UPS tab?

Does anyone else have a laptop and see the UPS tab on their power config panel? How about non-laptops that don't have a UPS hooked up? Do you see a UPS tab?

Thanks,
-linda
