Ladies and Gentlemen if you could help it would be much appreciated. Thank you.

I purchased a used laptop that has XP Pro (NEC Versa SX) I entered the set up window at boot up and clicked on default settings. Now when I start up it asks me for a password (black screen with 'Enter CURRENT password' prompt)I had set up user passwords for two people and neither password works.

Any help to get around that prompt would be gratefully appreciated. I'm just "po' white trash"(now) that hasn't had a real job in over two years and cannot afford to take the dang thing in for service.

Again, thank you for any help.
