I am running two xp machine as peer to peer. one I can access files and folders but the other I get a message stating that "you might not have permission to use network resources. Contact your administrator of this server to find out if you have access permission". Then on the bottom there is message "Logon failure: account currently disable". Here is the settings in both computers:

workgroup is the same. Share folder is set. everyone is set with full rights. I even run small office network wizard to make sure I setup both pc the same. Folder option is set to use simple sharing. What is next can I do. Can you please help please resolve this problem. It is really driving me crazy.....Thanks a lot
