If you visited a web site that had set thi shome-page, it is quite easy to get rid of that. Go to tools/Internet Options and set the home page under the general tab. This is the top most option that you can set.

Now if your home-page gets back to this unwanted site, you have a spyware in your pc that is setting it. Use a spyware removal tool line Spybot S&D or Adaware to get rid of that spyware.

Spybot s&d has a setting that will prevent future hijacking of homepage.
