

Password to Windows XP folder forgotten

Source:

http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/microsoft.public.windowsxp.security_admin/2005-04/1273.html

From: Bellelady (Bellelady_at_discussions.microsoft.com)

Date: 04/25/05

Date: Mon, 25 Apr 2005 00:42:01 -0700

I do not have an administrator password so I just go into XP. I assigned a password to a folder with a bunch of files and forgot the password. When I try to open the file a search window comes up for one. It is in "My Documents". Well I press search and all the files under the folder comes up but when I try to open it it says "The document or path is not valid. Try these suggestions: check file permission for document or drive. Use open dialog box to locate document."

So my questions are why does the search window come up every time I try to open a file and then get the error message. I know I have a password on the file but how do i come up to the box for the password to even try to guess??

Thanks