I don't know if this is the right place to seek advice on this matter, but I'll try.

I've run Spybot weekly for over a year and it has never found any "threats" before today. The one "security threat" (in red) is identified as a "registry change." HKLM/Software/Microsoft/Security Center/Anti-virus. I did have the MSAV (beta) program installed at one time, but uninstalled it a very long time ago.

The relevant registry entry says: AntivirusDisableNotify and the value is (1).

The other entries in that pane have a value of (0).

Any suggestions as to what this means or what, if anything, I should do?

I closed Spybot without taking any action because I was unclear as to what it meant.
