Hi,

First try to log-in into your hotmail account using the web browser Internet Explorer. See if you can log-in successfully. Please proceed in signing in to your MSN Messenger.

Regards,

Donna

MSN Messenger does not work with my account anymore. Its worked fine for over a year. Now when I try and log it I get message saying " Signing in to MSN

Messenger failed because the service is temporarily unavailable please try again later.

The odd thing is my friends can all log in here, and I can login my old hotmail address. for some reason its just my login that will not connect to msn messenger.

its been 24 hours now
