I'm curious as to whether you ever found a solution to this problem. I'm experiencing the exact thing and can't figure out what to do. I have checked the registry and all appears to be as it should be. Help Please!

Thank you

*Thanks for the response.

I just checked the registry locations and they are precisely where they should be!

I could delete and add contents of the Favorites folder, in fact the folder itself, but it remains totally invisible to Internet Explorer!

Very very perplexing.

: always block that action. check the setting of the key:

HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\Explorer\Shell

: Folders\Favorites

: it should point to:

: C:\Documents and Settings\username\Favorites
