well i did all of those options listed even went through the registry and still able to burn using nero.sooo dont think actually any of this options works at all.

any other suggestions?
would appreciate it.

Nero and most other 3rd party software don't use IMAPI for writing to CDs so this is why my previous reply had this step that you might have missed:

"If you have 3rd party burning software installed you will need to also uninstall it."
