

Re: That's it. I'm going to the police.

Re: That's it. I'm going to the police.

---

Source: <http://www.derkeiler.com/Newsgroups/sci.crypt/2007-07/msg24234.html>

---

- From: Volker Hetzer <firstname.lastname@xxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Thu, 12 Jul 2007 05:42:08 GMT
-

-----

And how many conversations does the government listen to?

For when they took the time to get a court authorization:

- * "Above the Law", by David Burnham, ISBN 0-684-80699-1, 1996
- *
- * ...in 1993, it appears in that year alone the government agents
- * listened to something like 810,000 conversations.

Of course, the NSA has stated it needs no warrants and doesn't even consider the legality of purely domestic wiretaps.

- * The Puzzle Palace, Author James Bamford, 1983 revision
- *
- * P229: "There's your smoking pistol right here." Watters says it is tied
- * into the local telephone company circuits, which are interconnected with
- * the national microwave telephone system owned by AT&T. Other specialists
- * testified to the same thing: purely domestic intercepts.

I would say a MINIMUM of 100 million purely domestic U.S. conversations are run through NSA keyword monitoring each year.

And who is listening to all our court authorized conversations?

- * "Above the Law", by David Burnham, ISBN 0-684-80699-1, 1996
- *
- * Under a little-noticed section of a 1986 law, Congress dropped the
- * requirement that only the FBI's high-priced Special Agents could
- * listen to the tapes. The FBI now hires low-cost clerks for what must
- * be extremely tedious work.

An army of low-cost clerks are listening to our private conversations?

I feel sick.

Re: That's it. I'm going to the police.

Re: That's it. I'm going to the police.

-----

Conclusion: Louis Freeh is a manipulative liar.

Louis Freeh is a Scary Man with the morals of a styrofoam cup.

*****

National ID Card

-----

* C-SPAN Congressional Television: outside coming down the Senate building's
* steps, Senator Biden with Senator Simpson in tow proclaims: "What's wrong
* with a Na

.

Re: That's it. I'm going to the police.